How does Brandywine Capital do business?

Plain English. Our documents are clear and understandable.

No hidden fees or surprises. We charge only one fee – to prepare all the proper documents for your transaction – before your transaction takes place.

No automatic renewals. Unlike others, our agreements do not automatically renew without your knowledge.

No end of lease surprises. Any payments due at the end of your lease – such as a buy-out amount – are discussed with you and clearly stated in your documents.

Consistent billing. Your payment due date is always the same every month.

Why businesses finance equipment

Over 80% of American businesses finance their capital equipment. It's fast, flexible, and convenient – offers tax advantages – and helps you preserve cash and credit lines for other uses.

Financing can also protect you from owning equipment that becomes obsolete – trapping funds that can't be liquidated. Financing newer equipment allows you to accurately budget costs and reduces or eliminates unexpected maintenance bills – as well as cutting costly downtime.

You'll also find these additional advantages:

- Flexible packages can match your cash flow and budget
 - Finance 100% of most equipment – without a down payment
 - Credit terms of up to 60 months (5 years)
 - Up to $100,000 available with only an application
 - Available on new and used equipment
 - Wide range of leasing programs and options
 - Easy, low-cost buy-out terms
